Drew Speight's love of cars led him to research educational options other than universities. He chose Stanly Community College where his instructors quickly realized he was gifted in the autobody field. Not only has he excelled in the classroom, he's also won two statewide competitions. "I could not have achieved this level of success without my SCC instructors," Drew said. "Their support and guidance helped me network and secure my dream job - before graduation."

Scarboro Transformed Canoeing Hobby Into A Business

By Toby Thorpe

Michael Scarboro was “into” canoeing and kayaking before ever thinking about opening the NC Canoe Company.

Michael and wife Lynn had operated Norwood Hardware for almost eight years. With its location in downtown Norwood and less than a mile from Lake Tillery, items related to boating and watersports were staples of their business. In addition, the nearby bodies of water were recreational destinations for the family.

“With our store near Tillery and the Rocky, Uwharrie and Pee Dee rivers, we often enjoyed boating and kayaking trips, paddling away and taking in the breathtaking views,” Michael said.

But it was some fellow canoeists, and one in particular (Landon Stroupe), who sparked his interest in transitioning from canoeing participant to watersports entrepreneur.

“One of the things Landon eagerly talked about was an event called Canoecopia, the largest paddle sports consumer expo in the world,” Scarboro recalled, which resulted in him and Landon making a 15-hour overnight drive to Madison, Wisconsin to attend the event.

“That turned out to be the start of a journey that culminated in the NC Canoe Company,” he said. “I realized what an excellent opportunity it would be to sell canoes at our hardware store by the lake.”

The opportunity has turned out well for Scarboro, who has customers from as far away as Louisiana and Florida, as well as North Carolina.

One of those customers, Doug Edwards, who operates Edwards Outdoor Adventures in Knightdale, speaks highly of Scarboro's products and services.

"When I need a new canoe or gear, the NC Canoe Company and Mike Scarboro have what I want with a collection of canoes in various materials and styles, and gear available," Edwards said.

Edwards went on to add that a recent "test drive" of a canoe helped him decide on a purchase.

"To make an educated canoe choice, a short shuttle to Lake Tillery allowed me a test paddle to find the best fit for my style and desires," he added. "The small-town hospitality and personalized service are a breath of fresh North Carolina outdoor air and make NC Canoe Company my go-to place."

Scarboro noted that his inventory consists of brands well-known to outdoors enthusiasts.

"We are an official Nova Craft Canoe dealer, and we carry a variety of well-crafted and excellent quality canoes, including canoes made from fiberglass, from plastic and from advanced composite materials," he said.

In addition to his dealership with Nova Craft, Scarboro also carries paddles made by Hunter & Harris and Bending Branches, as well as apparel and gear from NRS.

And, for those who may be canoe shopping, the business offers various models of canoes suited to the interests of the customer, with customizations such as color, trim and materials also available.

"We carry a variety," Scarboro said. "Whether you want to paddle calm lakes, winding rivers or whitewater, we can help you find the canoe that fits your needs."

Melissa Eudy awaits customers at The Rosebriar's pie bar.

Pies Have Built Rosebriar's Reputation

By Toby Thorpe

When Gail Burris opened the Rosebriar in the former Holt & Troutman grocery building in 1987, the restaurant quickly became known throughout the community. While sandwiches, quiches, and soups comprised the diner's lunch menu, it was desserts – pies in particular – that drew many customers to the eatery.

In 2023, after news broke that Melissa and Wes Eudy had purchased the restaurant from Burris, one question was repeated constantly: “What about the pies?”

It didn't take long for fears that “Mrs. Gail's” pies would go the way of the dinosaurs to be quelled.

“After we agreed to purchase the restaurant, I spent two weeks in ‘Mrs. Gail's Pie Academy,’ ” recalled Melissa, who related some of the history of Rosebriar's signature dessert.

“Gail's mom started making pies at home, originally using a recipe on the side of a vanilla wafer box,” she said. “Over time, she tweaked that recipe to adapt it in various ways, changed from pudding to custard, and began to experiment with different fillings and flavors.”

And while the recipes, according to Eudy, are “still pretty much the same,” the new owner has put a few of her own twists into the current menu.

“We offer daily and weekly specials,” she said, noting that on any given day there are seven types of pies available from which customers may choose.

“We often run out by the end of the day," she added.

Eudy noted that favorites vary by season, with key lime (the Thursday special) a summer favorite, and banana split popular year-round.

"We've added a German chocolate pie that is popular, too," she said.

Other favorites include Reese's ("something about chocolate and peanut butter makes people drool," said Eudy), Almond Joy, French Silk, Toffee, and Strawberry or Coconut Custard.

While pies are available by the slice during business hours, whole pies may be purchased by special order.

"We need at least a day's notice for those," she added.

Other new twists at the restaurant include online ordering and payment, as well as the addition of a salad bar.

"On the salad bar, we use locally-sourced lettuce and spinach from Spring Lake Gardens," said Eudy, adding that although the salad station is a new addition, it is already "very popular."

Although the business continues to thrive under Eudy's leadership, the teacher-turned-chef maintains a healthy respect and accountability to the person who gave Rosebriar its start.

"I just hope I'm making Gail proud," she said.

Mayes, Boles Continue A Family Tradition At Sassy Cakes

By Toby Thorpe

When asked what led them to careers as bakers, both Tamara Mayes and Cindel Boles, owners of Sassy Cakes Bakery in Locust, recalled learning the trade at their respective mothers' sides.

"Both our moms did cakes for people from home," Mayes said.

"We only lived about five minutes apart, so they would share cake pans and recipes," Boles added.

The two attended elementary school at Endy, went on to high school at West Stanly, and both attended Johnson and Wales University in Charlotte, earning associate degrees in culinary arts. Boles also earned a bachelor's degree in food service management.

"While we were growing up, Cindel was really into sports, and I was more into music and band," Mayes recalled. "But we both had a passion for food, and that's what led us down similar paths."

Those paths crossed in 2017, when Boles was hired. Mayes was already on staff and in a business partnership with the bakery's previous owner.

"She (original owner) decided to leave, so I was able to buy her out," said Mayes. "And in 2020, Cindel became an equal partner in the business," a development both say is evidence of divine destiny.

"It's due to God's planning that our paths came back together when they did," said Mayes.

The two bakers have built a loyal following, primarily on the quality of their custom cakes.

"We are best known for our cakes," Boles said, "but we do create and offer other treats such as cookies, pies, cupcakes, pastries and cheesecake."

"Our cheesecake is featured in three local restaurants - The Local Room, The Brew Room, and Emricci Pizzeria," added Mayes.

Loyalty is built not only through excellent products, but also through outstanding customer service, and the numerous clients who keep coming back attest to the bakery's stellar performance in that category.

"Learning what the customer wants, and listening to them is key," said Mayes.

"And the 'wow factor' when we see a child's eyes light up upon seeing their birthday cake, is really satisfying for us," added Boles.

In addition to supporting other Locust businesses, the "Sassy Girls" regularly team up with Icing Smiles, a Maryland-based nationwide non-profit organization that delivers dream cakes at no charge to youngsters impacted by critical illness.

"We provide super-fancy tier cakes for Icing Smiles a couple times a year," the two noted.

Mayes summarized the bakery's mission in a nutshell.

"We want to give the customer a quality product, and we will work with them to make it fit into their budget," she said.

"After all," added Boles, "everybody deserves a birthday cake."

Sweet Shop owner Shawn Oke offers up some cookies and Lutheridge Jersey Farm milk.

Chocolate Chips Anchor Sweet Shop Cookie Lineup

Story by Toby Thorpe

Of the diverse varieties of cookies produced by the Albemarle Sweet Shop, one stands out as the favorite among the bakery's many loyal customers.

Is it the clown cookie, the confectionery's signature brand?

Nope.

How about the all-season, any-time favorite, the sugar cookie?

Negative.

Peanut butter, macadamia nut, or pecan shortbread?

No, no, and no.

According to Sweet Shop owner Shawn Oke, the top-selling cookie among those frequenting the Second Street business is an age-old classic.

"We do bake a mean chocolate chip cookie," Oke said.

Even so, there's no shortage of demand for the shop's other baked goods. The downtown Albemarle establishment's pies, cakes, streusels, muffins, turnovers, breads and Danish treats all are in constant demand, but cookies tend to fly off the shelves rapidly.

"Our cookies are our best sellers," Oke said. "They sell better and faster than our other items."

Demand for other baked goods varies by season, he added.

"Around Christmas, we bake and sell anywhere from 10 to 12 thousand sugar cookies, and there is always demand for pies and cakes," said Oke.

Cookies are made the same way as when the bakery opened on King Avenue in 1922.

"Andrew (Oke's son, and like his dad, an Albemarle firefighter) works in here when he's not on duty. We make them the old-fashioned way, hand-cutting them."

The clown cookies, for which the shop is best-known, date back at least 60 years, according to Oke.

"We have traced them back to the 1960s, when the Whitley family owned the bakery," he said, adding that, “they may date back further than that.”

When asked if the shop is planning to offer any new cookie varieties, Oke noted that two types are in what he calls “the test phase.”

“We are testing a snickerdoodle cookie right now, and we recently produced a ‘cowboy cookie’ for an event at Atrium Health,” he said. “We got positive feedback on those.”

Feedback is key in determining new items to try, Oke said, relating a story that led him to develop a new creation.

“We (Oke and wife Laura) were at Badin Brews, and in conversation with a server, the subject of ‘favorite type of cookie’ came up,” he said. “The server suggested we offer a ‘peanut butter-chocolate chip’ cookie, so I came back and started developing a recipe for it.”

With the Sweet Shop offering so many varieties, Oke noted “it takes time” to determine whether new offerings will make the cut.

“We have to be patient,” he said. “Sometimes (new items) take time to catch on.”

Since moving into the shop’s new South Second Street location in September 2023, Oke has expanded the shop’s offerings, including milk from Rowan-based Lutheridge Jersey Farm, and has added tables and chairs so customers can enjoy fresh baked treats on-site.

LOCATION - LOCATION - LOCATION

Businesses in and around Locust Town Center benefit from proximity, accessibility

No less than six Stanly County Chamber of Commerce member businesses are located within easy walking distance along Town Center Drive and Market Street in downtown Locust.

Conversations with owners and operators of these companies reveal the advantages of customer convenience, easy access and high visibility.

Ace Hardware

217 Town Center Drive
acehardware.com/store-details/11978
704-888-0972

Ace Hardware first opened in Locust in 2005, and current manager Zack Zimmerman termed the store's present location as "very helpful."

"We get lots of foot traffic because of our location, and especially so during special events held here, such as concerts or outdoor movies," he said. "It's a benefit both for us and the customer, and nine out of 10 persons who come in are able to get just what they need."

In addition to the hardware firm's location, Zimmerman credited his staff with building customer loyalty.

"Nearly all of our employees have backgrounds in construction and grounds-related industries," he said, "and as such, they can provide excellent assistance to our customers."

Beane-Swaringen & Company, PLLC

236 Town Center Drive, Suite 130
704-983-2177

Despite the fact that an accounting firm draws very limited walk-up traffic, Beane-Swaringen representative Julie Moxley described its location as conducive to business.

"Our office is convenient for our customers, and offers easy access and parking," she said, noting the variety of surrounding businesses and residences as a benefit.

"(Town Center) is a mixed-use area. That helps us business-wise," Moxley said. "Being in the 'middle of things' here brings people in, and in turn, they see us and become aware of our presence and services, which helps us in the long run."

Tarheel Auto Sales Inc.

404 W Main St
Tarheelauto.com
704-888-0621

Tarheel Auto Sales was founded by Larry M. Baucom, who started selling cars wholesale in 1977. Now nearly 47 years later, Tarheel Auto has grown into a busy used car lot selling pre-owned cars. Just as Larry followed in his father's footsteps, Tarheel Auto has become a family business. His son James began working alongside Larry M. Baucom in 1998 and daughter Amy Baucom Ennis came on full-time in 2009. Sean Brown and Dennis Kiker joined this family team to complete a full service dealership.

The company specializes in late model, low mileage vehicles and must meet all the requirements of mechanical inspection.

Locust Health Center and Dr. Connie's Market

(Carolina Health Solutions)
241 Town Center Drive
carolinahealthsolutions.com
704-983-2177

Locust Health Center's location is not only beneficial to patients and customers in Locust, but to all the firm's customers in Stanly and surrounding counties, according to Dr. Connie Eckman, who operates the combination chiropractic clinic and health and wellness store along with her husband, Jay.

"We also have a practice in Albemarle," she said, "and if a patient needs us, we are within driving distance."

The center's location also makes it convenient for those who live and work in surrounding communities.

"Until we opened here in Locust, I didn't realize the disconnect between the western part of the county and the eastern side," she said. "So many of our patients who live here work in Charlotte or Concord, and being located here, we are able to reach a variety of residents from not only Stanly, but also Cabarrus, Union, and Mecklenburg counties."

And despite Locust's proximity to larger cities, traffic and gridlock is almost non-existent, she added.

"We are close to Charlotte, but we still have that small-town feel."

Medical Pharmacy of Locust

236 Market Street, Suite 100
medicalpharmacync.com
704-888-3784

Sarah Freeman of Medical Pharmacy remarked that the business' location and easy access for customers is a natural fit with the personal approach the business works to cultivate with its customers.

"We do our best to be part of the community and we make it a point to get to know our customers," Freeman said. "It's our goal to be able to help them with more than just filling their prescriptions."

Having grown up in a small town (Robbins, NC) herself, Freeman added that businesses situated in the center of Locust contribute to a "community feel," and that services offered such as home delivery and immunizations are equal to, and often exceed, those offered from chain pharmacies.

People love their pets, and West Stanly Animal Clinic's location is conducive to pet owners who want excellent care and convenient access.

On the clinic website, Dr. Sam Griffin states, "Our mission is to serve the people and pets of the greater Stanly County area with compassionate, appropriate, and modern care." Griffin also noted that the clinic places an emphasis on preventive wellness care.

Walk-in customers are accepted at any time Monday to Friday from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with appointments required only for surgical procedures.

"Being in the middle of Locust is a big advantage for us," said Tamara Mayes, who, along with Cindel Boles, operates Sassy Cakes bakery.

"Our location, kind of in the middle of a number of restaurants, brings people in for a cupcake, pie or other dessert," added Boles. "It's a convenient location for anyone visiting downtown."

What makes Stanly County great?

Wil Huneycutt
CHAMBER BOARD PRESIDENT
Huneycutt, Parsley & Taylor,
CPAs, PLLC

“Stanly County is a great place to live, work, and enjoy life. A place where you get to know your neighbors, where people support one another, and a place where people call home. Whether you want to visit the lake, a park, downtown, or just ride in the country, you can do it all in Stanly County. While all of the places to visit are beautiful, it is the people that make it a place great. Our people are second to none and want to see Stanly County flourish. Where I live, I can walk and see neighbors who know my kids’ names, get downtown to grab a bite to eat or shop, or even run with my kids chasing the ice cream truck. Our businesses, leaders, and community organizations work together to best serve our people and provide opportunities for growth and flourishing. There are not many places left like this, and I am grateful to call Stanly County home.”

Dr. John Enamait
PRESIDENT
Stanly Community College

Stanly County’s allure lies in its diverse elements and strong community. It thrives on the strength of its people, with dedicated leaders and active citizens contributing to its vibrancy. Of course, I believe Stanly Community College significantly enhances Stanly County’s greatness as one of the best community colleges in the nation. It empowers the community through education and skill development, a benefit many other counties envy.

Stanly County boasts breathtaking views of lakes, rolling hills, and lush farmlands, providing a serene backdrop for daily life. The view atop SCC’s Albemarle campus is especially incredible as well. Stanly County’s tight-knit community fosters solidarity, with neighborly support driving local business success.

Strategically located in North Carolina, Stanly County blends rural tranquility with urban convenience. Historic landmarks and local events reflect its rich history and culture, while outdoor enthusiasts enjoy hiking and fishing. The county’s charm, scenic beauty, community spirit, educational excellence, and proactive leadership create a strong sense of pride and belonging, making it a cherished home for residents, including my family and me.

Carla Weyrick
BROKER/REALTOR®/
RESIDENTIAL APPRAISER
Allen Tate Company

Stanly County is a lively community buzzing with entrepreneurial spirit and a commitment to growth. Our residents are what make Stanly County truly special. Whether it’s supporting local businesses, joining community events, or helping out a neighbor, people here are always ready to pitch in and make a difference. Local businesses and economic partners team up, creating jobs and fostering smart growth that benefits everyone.

The rolling hills, farmland, and plenty of nature is a draw, there’s always something to enjoy; wildlife, lakes, or parks. Clean air and outdoor festivals make it a perfect escape from city life, offering family fun and a simple, affordable quality of life.

This is a place where innovation meets tradition, where new ideas are welcomed, and everyone feels at home. The stunning scenery and strong sense of community make Stanly County a delightful place to live. I love being part of this community and always look forward to coming back, and being surrounded by such caring people. Stanly County isn’t just a spot on the map; it’s where dreams grow and community spirit thrives.

There are many things that make Stanly County great. It is filled with multiple opportunities for entertainment, activities and culture. You can spend the day Lake Tillery or Badin Lake, go hiking at Morrow Mountain or relax in one or our many parks. For the entertainment there are multiple venues to see local artists perform or share a drink at a local brewery or winery. From live theatre and art museums to historic sites, Stanly is alive with culture. Friday night cruise-ins, festivals and the annual Oakboro 4th of July Celebration draw thousands from neighboring counties.

For me, what stands out the most about Stanly is the people. From border to border you would be hard pressed to find a better group of neighbors. Stanly County is in a wonderful little bubble, where people still care about one another and being a neighbor still means something.

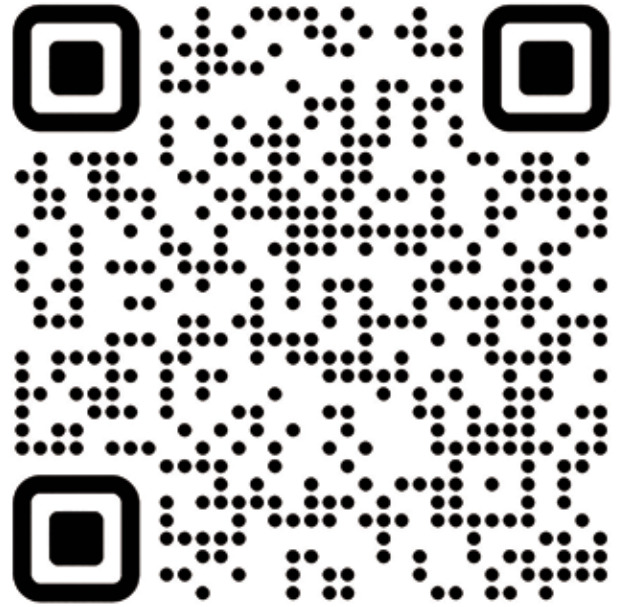

When I left here after high school I swore that I would never return. However, this is where I chose to settle down, work and raise my children.

I can say with all certainty that coming home was the best decision I have ever made.

Located less than 30 minutes from Charlotte, the city with a soul derived its name in the late 1860s from a Locust tree that was in full bloom. Home to one of the fastest growing populations in the county, Locust is well-known for Locust City Park, Officer Jeff Shelton Memorial Park, a farmers market during the summer, and events throughout the year in Town Center such as outdoor movies, concerts and Christmas festivities. ## Chamber events throughout the year

Each year the Stanly County Chamber of Commerce sponsors events for Chamber members and the community. Let's take a look at these offerings.

Leadership Stanly

Leadership Stanly is a nine-month program, where participants meet once a month to get an in-depth view of community issues, develop skills necessary to assume leadership roles, and are exposed to community involvement opportunities.

Candidates must be a resident of or working in Stanly County.

A candidate's participation must be endorsed by their employer or sponsored by a civic or non-profit organization. In addition, the employer and candidate must be willing to commit to the attendance policy in the application.

The fee is $900 and covers all costs for the 9-month program.

Monthly programs are planned by experts in government, public services, transportation, education, economic development and other fields.

Programs will explore decision-making and how government, small business and community organizations work together.

The program will also include both field studies and community awareness visits.

Golf Tournament

The Chamber hosts an annual golf tournament. The 32nd Annual Chamber Open Golf Tournament is a Captain's Choice tournament that will feature prizes for hole-in-one, closest to the pin and longest drive. This tournament is a county favorite that you do not want to miss.

Safety Awards Banquet

Every year we partner with The N.C. Department of Labor to recognize area employers and employees with an Annual Safety Awards Banquet. The awards honor outstanding on-the-job safety achievements of businesses in Stanly County.

Ribbon Cuttings

Let us bring the "BIG" scissors and help you celebrate! Whether it's a new business, an expanded business or you are a new Chamber member, call us to arrange your "official" ribbon cutting. This is a members-only service that is a perk of Chamber membership. Call us at 704-982-8116 or email Erica Church at info@stanlychamber.org.

Leads at Lunch

Leads at Lunch is a small-group, topic-based networking event in partnership with Stanly Community College Small Business Center. We focus on topics such as social-media marketing, advertising, technology, succession planning, sustainability, etc. We meet monthly to bounce ideas, brainstorm and network with one another. All Chamber members are invited to attend, but we do ask that you RSVP since lunch is being served. RSVP to anissa@stanlychamber.org.

Dinner on Main

Come spend a delightful evening under the stars in downtown Albemarle enjoying a delicious farm to table dinner experience. Join us this fall as we dine outdoors among friends and enjoy the bountiful harvest our community has to offer. This year's event will be September 21, 2024, and tickets will go on sale in the summer of 2024.

Business After Hours

This is a premier Chamber networking event! Professionals use this time as an opportunity to socialize and share and discuss ideas in a relaxed, social atmosphere. Learn about the businesses of other members while networking. This event is the third Thursday of each month from 5:30-7:30 p.m. R.S.V.P. to anissa@stanlychamber.org

Annual Meeting

The Chamber's Annual Meeting is held in the first quarter of each year. We feature a keynote speaker, recognize retiring board members and elect new leadership board members. In addition, this meeting feature awards for Ambassador of the Year and Citizen of the Year.

What is hospice care?

Hospice care aims to ease pain in patients who are not expected to recover from their condition; life expectancy is 6 months or less and treatment is no longer being pursued.

What is palliative care?

Palliative care aims to ease pain and help with symptoms caused by a chronic or serious illness but is not considered to be life-limiting at this time. This service adds an extra layer of support working in conjunction with an individual's medical team and life-prolonging medications or treatments.
